

I do not understand how you could possibly think about disrupting a service that I pay for. This is nothing like down-loading free music and I do not understand the "why behind the what". Are there no other issues or use of your energy you could utilize?